NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—The city sales tax, that much-maligned but eagerly-accepted revenue getter, is snow-balling throughout the state. Yesterday at least three more cities joined the list of those imposing the tax.

While it might be sniffed at in many governmental quarters, it's the best thing in sight to replenish city coffers.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce has just come out with a booklet explaining the provisions of the new sales tax law and also those of the utility tax. Particularly interesting is the sales tax law as it affects cities with a commission form of government, such as Dixon.

The C. of C. pamphlet explains: "For cities not having the commission form of government, a sales tax ordinance must be published within 10 days of its enactment and the tax becomes effective the first day of the calendar month next following the expiration of the publication period. Different provisions are in force, however, in respect to cities having the commission form of government."

"The proposition of a sales tax for a commission city (and there are 72 of them in the state) is subject to approval of the voters at an election required to be held on the question of having or not having the tax, provided that the voters of the city petition for such an election."

"The specific circumstances surrounding the enactment of the tax, its effective date, and the situation in regard to the election depend on whether the ordinance providing for the tax contains a statement of urgency."

"If, in a commission city, an ordinance providing for a city sales tax is passed with a statement of urgency the tax takes effect on the first day of the next month. In the event, however, that a petition by 10 per cent of the voters is filed in protest to the tax within a specified time period, the question of approving or disapproving the tax must be submitted at an election. If a majority of the votes cast favor the tax it remains in effect, and if a majority of the vote is against the tax it becomes inoperative as of the close of the then current fiscal year of the city."

"If an ordinance is passed without a statement of urgency, the ordinance does not, at a minimum, take effect for a 30-day period. During this time voters may petition in protest of the tax. If protest is made, the ordinance is suspended from going into operation and the city council must reconsider the ordinance, either repealing it or submitting it to an election where a majority vote is required for the ordinance to take effect."

A city tax on utilities is apparently much simpler. According to the C. of C. pamphlet, "The corporate authorities of Illinois municipalities may impose a tax on ANY or ALL of the occupations or privileges of transmitting messages by electricity, and distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling gas, electricity, or water. In the case of the transmission of messages the tax relates to business originating within the corporate limits of the municipality. The taxes in respect to gas, electricity and water, are for the use of these products within the corporate limits of the municipality and where those products are not sold for resale."

"The basis of the tax is five per cent of the amount of gross receipts. When subject to this tax a public utility may increase its charges to customers to provide for the amount of the tax, plus three per cent of that amount to cover costs of accounting and plus the amount of increases in other taxes on account of those increased charges."

Reveal Bank Is Short $678,000 Cashier, Race Horse Owner, Held in Jail

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP) — A $678,000 shortage has shut down this Mojave Desert town's only bank and its vice-president-cashier, who also is a race horse owner, is under arrest on an embezzlement charge.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Ray H. Kinnison said an audit disclosed the shortage at the Joshua National Bank, a seven-year-old institution serving 3,200 residents of this community and a nearby Marine Corps training camp.

The bank officials, Roscoe D. Coon, 46, was arrested Monday by FBI agents at his Del Mar race track stable in San Diego County. He was specifically charged with embezzling $10,000 of the missing $678,000.

Sent To Jail
Coon was remanded to the San Diego County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail pending arraignment.

Coon, a short, ruddy man wearing a flowered sport shirt and slacks, told newsmen:

"I don't know what the charges are against me. I'm still in the dark about this whole thing. I was sitting in the sun at my B and R Stable when the FBI came and told me I was under arrest. It was a big surprise to me."

He explained that he had been on "sick leave" with a stomach ailment the last three weeks. "They were working me to death at the bank. The worry and drugery were taking their toll."

He said he became interested in racing as a business and now owns five horses — Wright Down, Bayon Boy, Fabricate, Cotton and Andy G. He planned to race them at Del Mar. He added, The track's season starts tomorrow.

Horses Win
Coon said his horses have raced at all California tracks and in 1954 his winnings grossed $114,000. He denied he bet heavily on horses.

However Kinnison said it is believed Coon had lost heavily at the race windows in recent months.

John F. Malone, FBI agent in charge of the Los Angeles office, said Coon is accused of ordering currency in $50 and $100 bills from the Los Angeles branch of the Federal Reserve Bank and of keeping the money instead of depositing it in the bank.

"Bank records do not show the $10,000 was ever received," Malone said.

Kinnison said the $10,000 was a tentative amount and that thefts apparently have been going on since last January or before.

Bank Closed
The bank's Board of Directors ordered the institution closed and it was immediately taken into receivership by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Deposits are protected by federal insurance up to $10,000 each.

An official said the bank's assets were three million dollars.

Coon has a wife and three grown children and owns a home in Altadena, near Los Angeles.

Wife Lists Blonde As 'Property' in Suit for Divorce

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers started in amazement Monday at item 10 in a list of divorce settlement property going to the husband. It read: "And the blonde that was the cause of the separation and the divorce."

The attorney for the wife in the divorce suit explained: "Certainly the blonde who was the cause of the separation and the divorce, and which the defendant now has, should be worth something."

The total property division came to more than $25,000. The value of item 10 was noted by a question mark.

U. S. Reports June Living Costs Increased Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that living costs edged up slightly in June to the highest point in 1955. They were still a bit lower than June of last year.

The rise—the first recorded since November—was attributed to small increases for food, housing, transportation, personal care and medical expenditures. Officials said further seasonal food price rises are indicated in July and are likely to result in another modest boost in over-all costs.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between May and June to 114.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This means that what could be bought for a dollar during the 1947-49 era now costs nearly $1.15.

This June's living cost increase was small and largely seasonal, for eggs, fruits and vegetables.

Spark of World Peace Seen At Geneva, Ike Tells Nation

U. S. Facing Hardest Task In Its History

Patience, Sacrifice Needed to Keep Hope Of Mankind Kindled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the nation Monday night a spark of world peace was ignited at the Big Four conference. But he said much patience and sacrifice and "some giving on each side" will be needed to keep that spark alive.

Winding up a radio-TV report on last week's talks—which, he said, included no secret agreements—the President declared:

"I believe that only with prayerful patience, intelligence, courage and tolerance—never forgetting vigilance and prudence—can we keep alive the spark ignited at Geneva."

Difficult Duty
"We, all of us, individually and as a people, have possibly the most difficult assignment of our nation's history. Likewise, we have the most shining opportunity ever possessed by Americans. May these truths inspire us, never dismay us."

He said the "acid test" of the Geneva talks will come next October, when the Big Four foreign ministers meet to seek specific agreements on some of the broad problems taken up by their chiefs.

"Then is when reconciliation and some giving on each side will be definitely necessary," he said.

At another point, he said: "Now, for myself, I do not believe the obstacles lying ahead on the road to a secure and just peace. . . . I do not blink the fact that all of us must continue to sacrifice for what we believe to be best for the safety of ourselves and for the preservation of the things in which we believe."

All Want Peace
"But I do know the people of the world want peace."

"Moreover, every other individual who was at Geneva likewise felt this longing of mankind. . . ."

The President spoke, glancing occasionally at hand-written notes, from his oval office in the White House. In this first direct report to the nation on the Geneva meeting, he listed four main results of his talks with the Russian, British and French chiefs of government:

1. "A sharpened realization by the world that the United States will go to any length, consistent with our concepts of decency, justice and right, to obtain peace. For this purpose we will work cooperatively with the Soviets and any other people as long as there is sincerity of purpose and a genuine desire to go ahead."

2. "A growing realization by all—including the Soviets—that nuclear warfare pursued to the ultimate could be practically race suicide."

3. "A realization that negotiations can be conducted without propaganda and threats and invectives."

4. "A better understanding and a closer unity among the nations of NATO."

No Coaching
Eisenhower spoke without side-line coaching from his TV adviser Robert Montgomery, who was in New York.

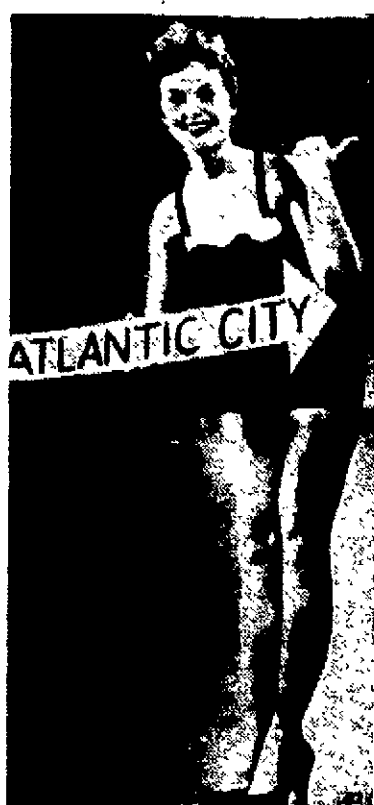

The chief executive's manner was serious but rather matter-of-fact in comparison with the earnestness of the similar 15-minute talk he delivered just before leaving for the Geneva conference 10 days earlier. Monday night's address was more hastily prepared. Occasionally he fumbled for a word.

Without visible emotion, he spoke of the diplomatic surprise he scored at Geneva—his proposal that this country and the Soviet Union exchange military blueprints and permit aerial photographing of each other's military facilities.

"The principal purpose, of course, was to convince everyone of Western sincerity in seeking peace," he said. "But another idea was this:

"If we could go ahead and establish a closer unity among the nations of NATO."

Ashton Gun Victim Gets Six Months

Raymond R. Bowlin, 30, Chicago and Northwestern railroad worker who was shot in the leg July 14 while attempting to escape from an Ashton policeman, today was sentenced to six months in the Vandallia state prison farm.

County Judge Grover Gehant pronounced sentence after Bowlin pleaded guilty to an amended charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The original charge was assault with intent to commit murder. State Atty. James Bales recommended the half-year sentence.

Ronald Linscott, Ashton policeman and special deputy sheriff, shot Bowlin when he reportedly attempted to escape while en route to Dixon.

Bowlin earlier had escaped from Linscott in Ashton but was recaptured with the aid of several Ashton residents. Linscott originally arrested Bowlin for disturbing the peace.

The members of the Dixon city council and the trustees of the Swissville sanitary sewer district are scheduled to meet again in informal session tonight following the council session to resume contract negotiation talks.

The meeting last Tuesday night was sidetracked when Mayor William Slothower and several council members suggested annexation as a positive solution to Swissville's sewage assessment problem.

The old two-year contract, which expired July 15, obligated the Swissville district to pay $3,300 a year to the city of Dixon for the privilege of connecting their sewer system with the Dixon system and using the Dixon disposal plant.

C. Lyle Ballard, commissioner of finance, is sponsoring a move to increase the contract price "or let Swissville build its own system and disposal plant."

Atty. A. H. Hanneken, speaking in behalf of the Swissville district, last week asked that the contract price be lowered because the district is only able to raise about $3,200 annually from sewage taxes.

Talbott's Other Job Was 'Legal'

Reveal Role of Brownell in Case Of Mulligan 'Stew'

WASHINGTON (AP) — John A. Johnson, Air Force general counsel, testified today that he discussed Secretary Harold E. Talbott's outside business interests with Atty. Gen. Brownell last January, and Brownell "expressed no disagreement" with his opinion they were legal.

Johnson told investigating senators he wrote a "draft memorandum" on the matter after learning that Radio Corporation of America (RCA) was questioning both the propriety and legality of doing business with a management engineering firm in which Talbott was a partner.

Brief Meeting
Johnson said "the secretary asked me to discuss the matter with the attorney general," and that he did so last Jan. 6.

"My meeting with the attorney general was very brief," Johnson continued. "I showed him my draft memorandum. . . ."

He expressed no disagreement with the legal conclusion stated in the memorandum.

"However, the attorney general said that he would like to take the matter under consideration. The attorney general said that I could expect to hear from him in a day or two, and that in the meantime I should take no further action in the matter."

"The attorney general did not get in touch with me, and I have had no further discussion of the matter with him."

Statement Prepared
Johnson gave the account of a visit to Brownell in a prepared statement which he read to the Senate Investigations subcommittee. The senators are inquiring into the propriety of Talbott's partnership in the New York City firm of Paul B. Mulligan and Co.

City of Morris Adopts Sales Tax

MORRIS, Ill. (AP) — The Morris City Council Monday night adopted a half-cent city sales tax which is expected to bring in additional annual revenue of $60,000 to be used for civic improvements.

A week earlier the council had rejected the sales tax measure after listening to the protests of local merchants.

School Survey Committees Heading for Home Stretch

With almost two-thirds of its work behind it, the Citizens Survey Committee for the Dixon schools greeted guests at an "open house" meeting Monday night in the high school.

All meetings of the group are open to the public, but as the survey of the city school buildings and curriculum nears its end, the committee is extending a special invitation to the public to attend the meetings which are held the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Two-Fold Purpose
The committee feels that the "open house" meetings serve a two-fold purpose in that "they offer an opportunity for anyone who wishes to get a first hand idea of the immense amount of work and the broad scope which a survey of this type embraces and at the same time offers the committee itself a chance to find out the public reaction to their work."

During last night's meeting, Mrs. Forest Trautwein, chairman of the curriculum subcommittee, announced that group now is beginning to compile its report. She said a survey of more than 400 Dixon High School graduates is complete, and results should show how many pupils go on to college and what occupational others enter.

The report also will include results of discussion meetings with teachers and administrators and field trips to study the operation of other schools in the area.

Have Guests
Guests of the subcommittee were Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Adler, Mrs. Robert Vest, Mrs. Victor Eichler and the Rev. E. E. Schaeffer.

The finance group, which is doing an analysis of how and where the money comes from to run the school system, reported it may present a tentative report at the next meeting Aug. 8. Guests of the group were Mrs. John Brown, Edwin Merrick and Edward Lawton.

The community subcommittee, which is completing a study of occupational opportunities in industry and business in Dixon, had Dr. Irving Katz and Fritz Herzog as guests.

Members of the buildings subcommittee met in the home of O. W. Dodd with volunteer workers of the Hazelwood School area while working on an evaluation of the school building.

Climbs to 94; Heat to Continue

Noontime High Set For Summer; Rain Is Possible Tonight

Dixon had its highest temperature reading of the summer at noon today with the mercury expected to roll still higher during the afternoon.

The noon reading was 94 degrees. The previous high was 93. The mercury dropped only to 78 during the night after a high of 86 Monday.

Residents sweltering in the humid heat could take little hope for relief from the weather bureau. Temperatures in the next five days are expected to average about five degrees above normal. That would mean daytime highs in the 90s and nighttime lows near 70 or a little below.

The weather bureau said there was a chance of a few isolated thundershowers in the Dixon area today and Wednesday afternoon and evening. The five-day outlook said local thundershowers also are a possibility Friday with local amounts of about a half inch.

While surrounding communities have enjoyed showers—ranging from heavy to light—in the past week, Dixonites have watched lawns and fields dry up.

Only two measurable falls of rain have been reported in the city during July—57 inch July 7 and 11 inch July 10. The total, 78, may be compared with the average July rainfall for this area which is between 3 and 3½ inches.

Name Public Health Dept. Dentist Here

The Lee County Health Department today announced the appointment of Dr. Robert C. Miles, a native of Woodstock, as public health dentist in the department.

Dr. Miles, a veteran of six years service in the Air Corps during the World War II period, holds a bachelor of arts degree from the Polytechnic Institute of San German, Puerto Rico, a bachelor of science degree from the University of Illinois, and a doctor of dental surgery degree from the college of dentistry, University of Illinois, Chicago.

He has been qualified, according to the announcement, for the position of public health dentist by the State Department of Health temporarily, contingent on his securing a license to practice dentistry in Illinois. He has completed all examinations for the license.

The Lee County board of health reorganized for next year during its annual meeting last week. All officers were reelected—Dr. Gene Sullivan, president; Leon A. Garrison, vice president, and Mrs. Myra Nichols, secretary.

The director of the county health department, Dr. Robert W. Allen, is in Springfield this week "familiarizing himself with the various activities" of the State Department of Health.

Quake in Chile
ANTOFAGASTA, Chile (AP) — An earthquake caused a panic Monday night in this northern Chilean city. There were no immediate reports of casualties or heavy damage.

Bloomington Settles Suit With Utility

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. — The City of Bloomington's $310,000 lawsuit against the Illinois Power Co. was settled Monday night for $75,000, plus at least $32,000 a year for the life of a 50-year franchise granted the utility.

The annual payments to the city will rise as the power company's income increases, under terms of the agreement.

The city had sued for $310,000 on the grounds the power company owed that much for operations in the city without a franchise since 1935.

Increase in Cattle Feeding May Weaken Beef Market

By L. H. SIMERL
University of Illinois

Farmers are fattening more cattle than ever before at this time of the year. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, farmers in 13 major feeding states were fattening 31,609,000 head of cattle on July 1. This number was an increase of 13 per cent over last year, which was probably a record for the date.

Cattle-feeding operations have been greater all this year than they were a year earlier. Numbers of cattle on feed Jan. 1 were up 8 per cent from the year before, while April 1 numbers were 12 per cent above those in 1954.

This report of bigger cattle-feeding operations is not cheering to farmers. Recent prices for fat cattle have been nearly 10 per cent below those of a year ago, and the lowest for this time of year since wartime price ceilings.

13 Per Cent in Illinois

Iowa continues to be the biggest cattle-feeding state. On July 1 Iowa farmers were fattening about 1,031,000 head of cattle, 9 per cent more than last year. Illinois ranked second in the Corn Belt with 440,000 head, 13 per cent more than last year. Nebraska was third feeding 408,000 head, 3 per cent more than one year before. The Corn Belt as a whole (11 North-Central states) reported over 2,800,000 head of cattle on feed, 10 per cent more than last year.

The weights of cattle on feed show one important change from last year: Weights over 1,000 pounds make up 12 per cent of the total this year compared with only 9 per cent in 1954.

Seventy-two per cent of the cattle on feed this year are steers compared with 75 per cent last year. Twenty-five per cent are heifers compared with 22 per cent a year ago. Most of the remaining 3 per cent are classified as calves.

TIME ON FEED

Cattle now on feed have been fed about the same length of time as last year. In the three leading corn-belt states 20 per cent have been on feed less than 3 months,

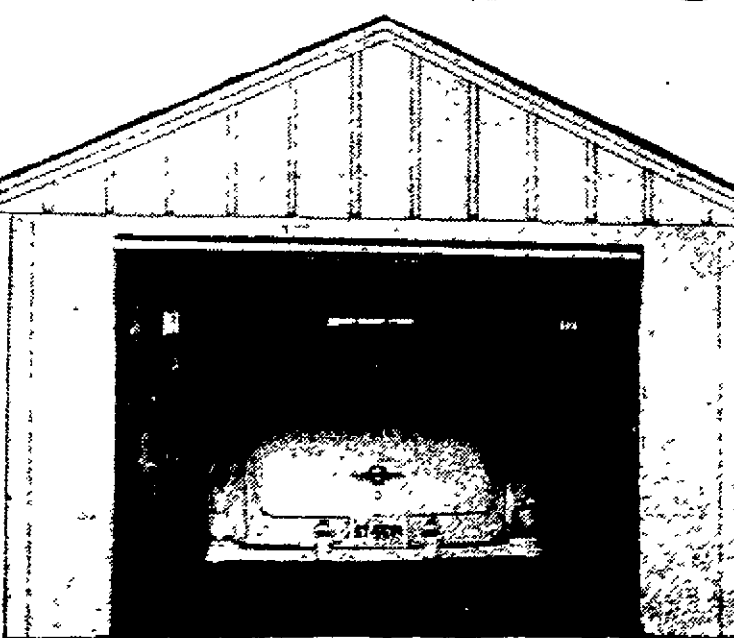

Gardeners' Questions Answered

Q—Have purchased a large lot on which we plan to build. While clearing last autumn we discovered much poison ivy. What do you suggest?

A—Spray the ivy, as soon as the foliage is well out, with the new chemical weed killer, 2, 4, 5-T, at double strength. Also, grub out the roots near the trees. Secure the aid of someone immune to the poison, and watch spraying since the chemical will kill whatever tree, shrub or vine it reaches.

Illinois Insect Control

This is the fifteenth weekly bulletin on the general insect situation in Illinois (fruit insects excepted), prepared by entomologists of the Illinois Natural History Survey, the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, and cooperating agencies. These bulletins report current trends in the insect situation and may require local modification, since weather conditions materially affect insect populations.

Corn Borer: Pupation of the first generation varies from 0 to 20 per cent. In all fields examined throughout the heavily infested areas, the average is about 10 per cent. A few moths have already emerged. It is not yet possible to determine what per cent of first-generation borers will pupate and emerge as moth to deposit eggs for a second generation. Moth emergence and egg-laying may occur, however, over a period of several weeks.

Potentially we may be faced with the largest population of second generation corn borer yet experienced in the north half of Illinois. Many early-planted fields have an average of five first-generation borers per stalk, while many fields planted between May 10 and 20 have one or more borers per stalk. If a high percentage of these borers pupate and emerge as moths, second-generation populations will be extremely serious. The number of dropped ears and broken stalk will be determined largely by fall weather; winds or wet weather that delay corn harvest may accentuate the damage.

With this potential, severe damage from the second generation appears inevitable if normal development occurs, and a large acreage of corn may profitably be protected with an application of DDT.

Sweet corn canners should be prepared to treat some fields by the end of this week, as moths will undoubtedly be depositing eggs. At regular intervals look for corn borer eggs in all fields that are two or more weeks from harvest. It will pay to treat all fields that have 25 or more egg masses per 100 stalks.

Fields of seed corn and field corn will very likely suffer damage from second-generation borer. This is particularly true of the later planted fields. When there is about one egg mass per plant in field corn, applying DDT at 1½ pounds per acre will be profitable. This may occur within the first two weeks of August.

Grasshoppers: Thus far grasshopper feeding has gone unnoticed in most areas because of the luxuriant growth of crops. If growing conditions become less favorable, damage will become more apparent. In addition, grasshoppers are migrating from hay crops to soybeans and corn.

Apply dieldrin at 1½ pound per acre or toxaphene at 2 pounds per acre to border areas in soybean and corn fields to prevent grasshoppers from migrating. If the hay crop is still two or more weeks from harvest, apply aldrin or heptachlor at 4 ounces per acre to save hay and prevent future damage from grasshoppers.

Bagworms: This pest is becoming quite noticeable, and reports of injury to various trees and shrubs are common. It is almost too late to get perfect control, but practical control is still possible. Applying four pounds of lead arsenate or one quart of 50 per cent malathion per 100 gallons of water to infested trees and shrubs will give practical control.

Cautions: Before applying insecticides, read the labels and follow all precautions carefully. It not only will insure personal safety, but will also eliminate insecticide residue hazards.

Preventing accidents on the farm is a year-round job.

Justin Becker called our attention to an article in the July 11 issue of the Wall Street Journal showing that farm and factory product prices have reached their widest spread since World War II's end.

This article reads in part, "Compared with the high-water mark of March, 1951, prices on all commodities other than farm and food items have declined less than two per cent. Farm products prices, meanwhile, have tumbled 23 per cent."

Two factors seem clearly responsible for this fork-in-the-road picture in the price charts:

1. Sharply rising factory wages have propped up prices of manufactured goods.

2. Super-abundant production, coupled with waning foreign markets, has pulled down farm product prices despite efforts to hold them up by federal edict.

The farm price support program, ironically, has contributed to the decline in farm exports. While the propping efforts have failed to keep prices from falling, they have succeeded in keeping most U. S. farm prices above those of competitive foreign producers.

Aug. 8—FFA Show.

Aug. 10—Home and Farm Bureau picnic and sports festival.

Aug. 11—Soil Conservation District Plowing Match.

Aug. 12-21—State Fair, Springfield.

On The Rural Scene

With JIM SOMERS
Lee County Farm Advisor

Plans for the Lee County Home and Farm Bureau picnic are underway. The date is Aug. 10. Plan to attend. The four Burmese IFYEs, visiting in the county, will be present.

Harold Brinkmeier visited several demonstration windbreaks with Mr. Scholten of the University of Illinois Forestry Department last Wednesday. The most common insects bothering windbreak trees now are bagworm and red spider. To control bagworm, use lead arsenate spray mixed at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds per gallon of water. To control red spider, use a miticide, such as aramite or dilmita, applied according to directions.

A ground corn-cob mulch will help preserve moisture in dry weather.

For the first time in the history of the college of veterinary medicine at the University of Illinois, there are not enough applications for admission from Illinois residents to fill all of the places in the freshman class this fall.

Justin Becker called our attention to an article in the July 11 issue of the Wall Street Journal showing that farm and factory product prices have reached their widest spread since World War II's end.

Oats Make Good Corn Substitute

URBANA — You may be interested in feeding some cheap oats to livestock this summer.

G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, points out, for instance, that while the market value of a pound of oats is only slightly more than 60 per cent of that of a pound of corn, the two are equal in feed value for fattening hogs.

Just be sure that oats do not make up more than one-fourth of the swine ration, Carlisle says. Any more than that will slow the rate of gain.

For fattening beef cattle, two bushels of oats are about equal to one bushel of corn. During the early part of the feeding period you can feed more, but during the last third of the time oats should not make up more than one-fourth of the grain ration for cattle.

For fattening lambs, oats have a feeding value about 80 per cent of that of shelled corn, the specialist says. That means that you will have to feed about one and one-fourth pounds of oats for every pound of corn you take out of the ration.

Grind the oats coarse for beef cattle; grind them fine for hogs and feed them to lambs whole.

Oats are higher in minerals and protein than corn and make excellent feed for breeding animals, Carlisle suggests. You can use up to 50 per cent of oats in the grain ration for these animals.

Harry G. Russell Will Be Judge in Top Duroc Show

URBANA — Harry G. Russell, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture will be one of the key men at the 1955 National Duroc Congress to be held at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This event will attract more than 2,000 hog men from 25 or more states, including purebred breeders and commercial pork producers, as well as leaders in the packer and college fields.

Russell, nationally known swine judge, will serve as chairman of the type standardization committee. It is the job of this committee to mold the type of Duroc that will be profitable to the producer as well as appeal to the consumer. He is also serving as judge of the breeding classes show.

More than 300 head of purebred meat-type Durocs consigned by breeders from 15 states will be on display. They will be competing for over $4,000 in prize money in a national show and then sold in two national sales.

This Congress is sponsored by the United Duroc Record Association of Peoria.

More Roughage

Dairy heifers under a year old will do best if you keep them on pasture near the barn where they can get some additional grain and supplemental roughage.

Little Choice

Preliminary Illinois tests show little advantage for complete hog rations over free-choice rations when fed in drylot.

Every 1½ per cent reduction in brucellosis in livestock means an annual saving of nine million dollars to livestock men, says a University of Illinois veterinarian.

More Pork with Less Feed

The "4x4" Way

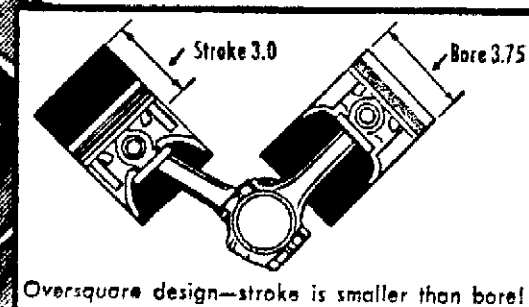

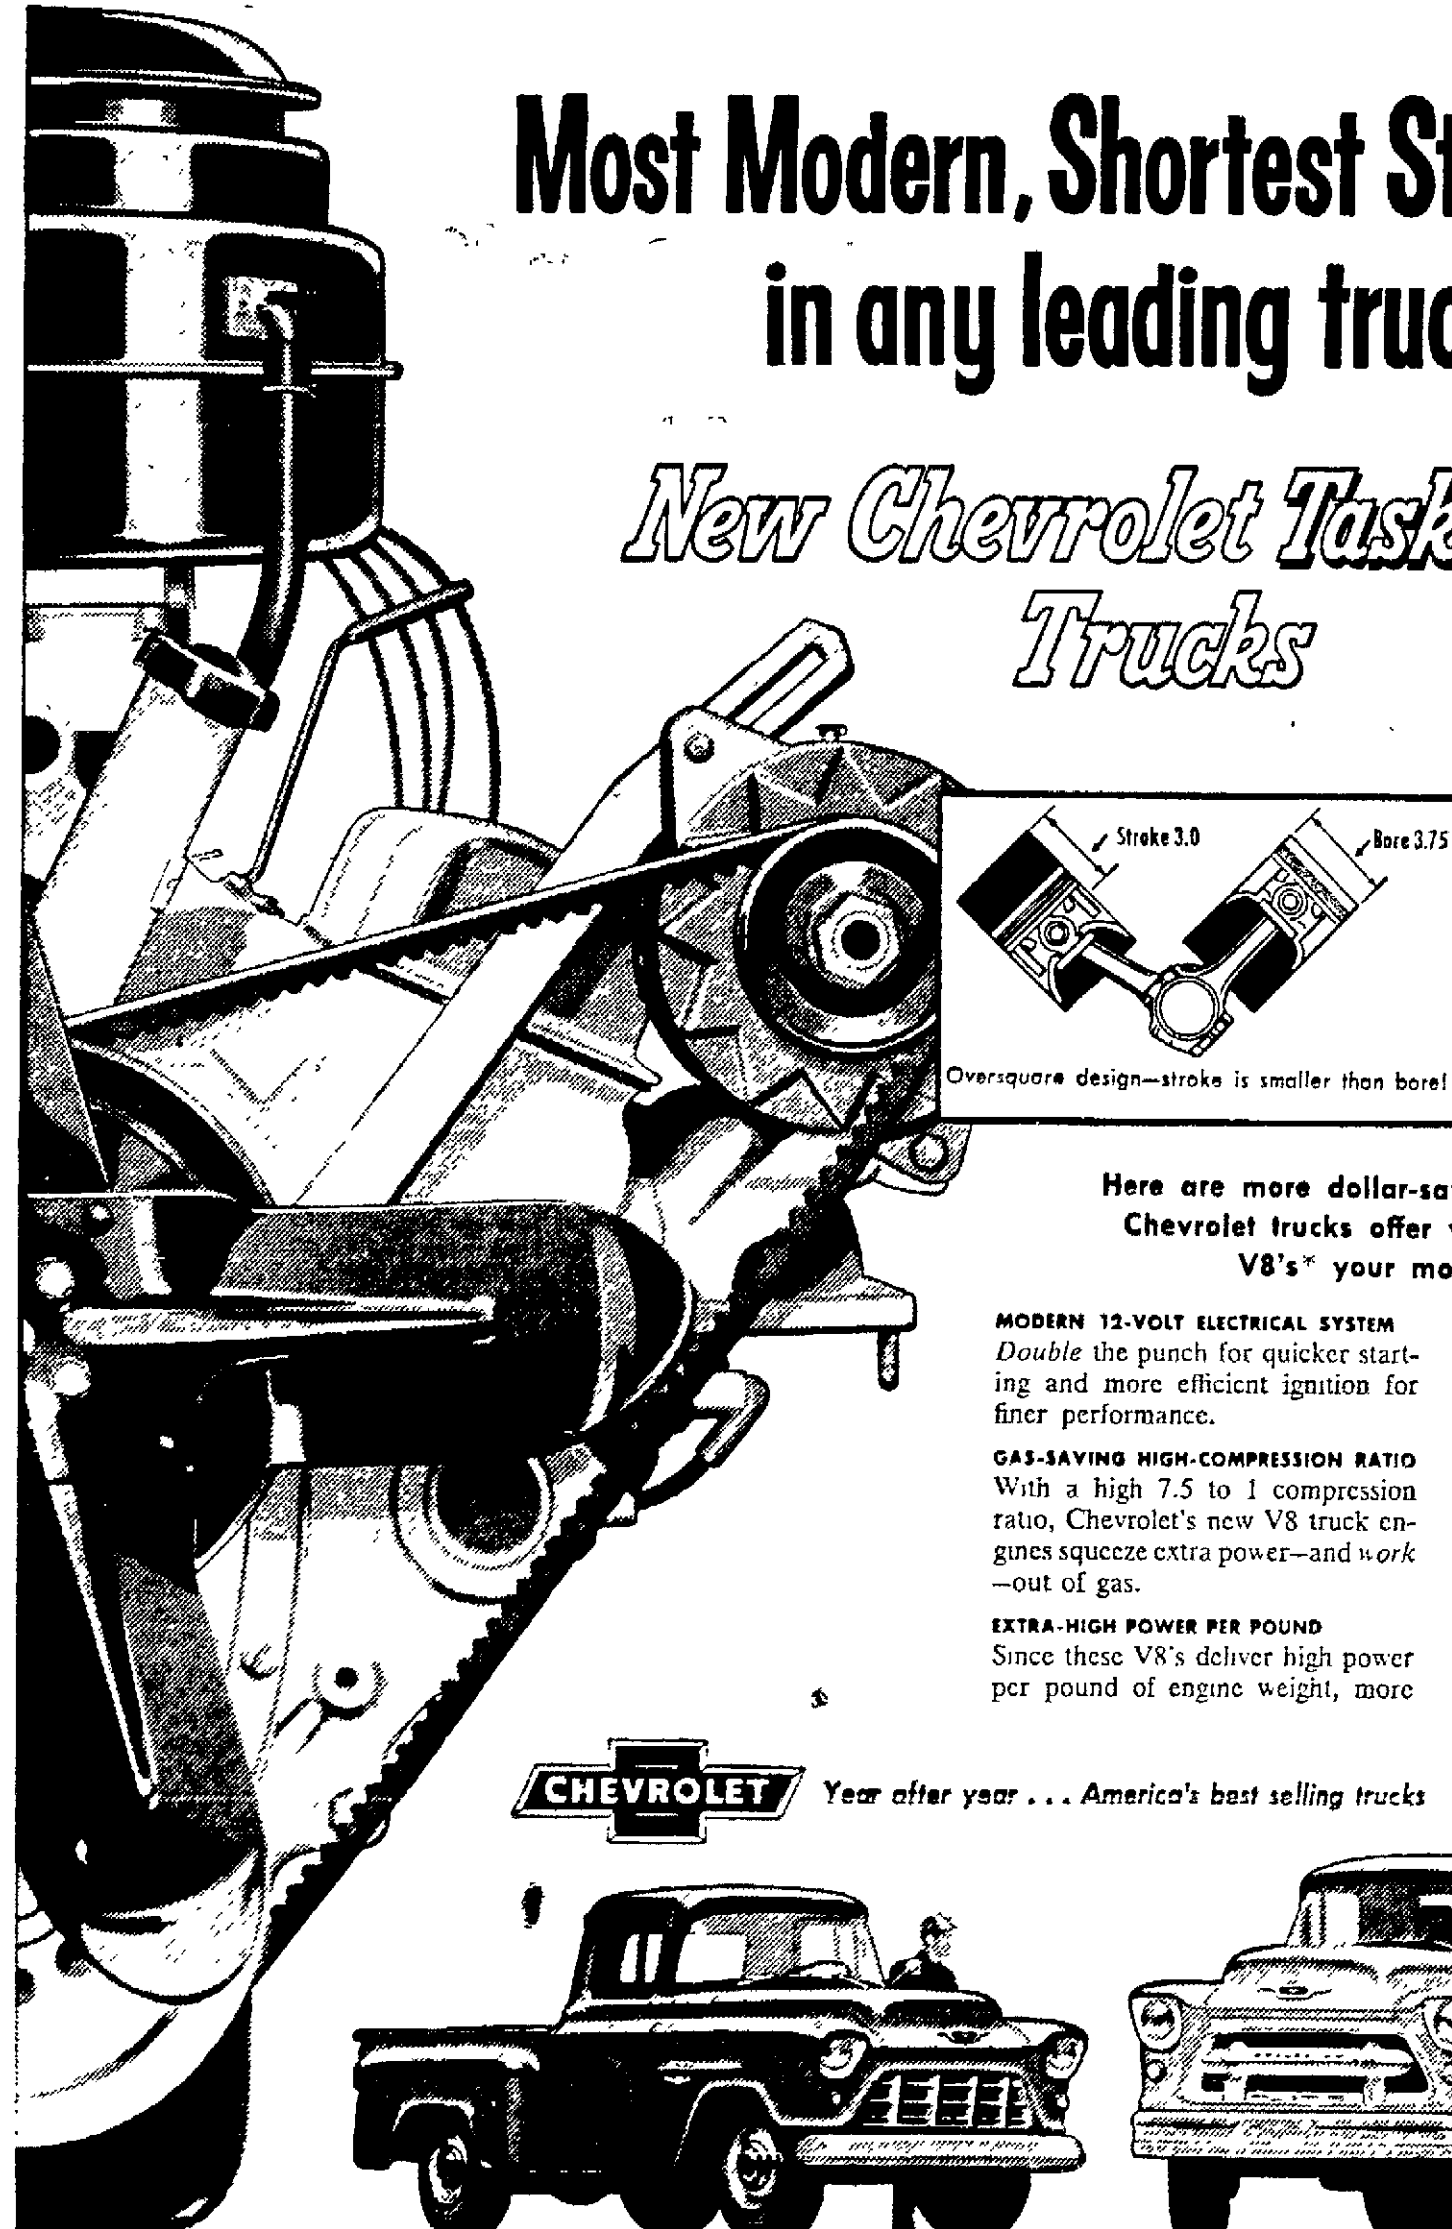

Yes, sir, it takes only a dime's worth of feed to put on a pound of pork, birth-to-market, when you use the "4x4" Life-Cycle feeding program. And you can be assured of marketing 220-pound hogs in 5½ months and less.

Take a tip from thousands of feeders who have used "4x4". They know feeding costs are less. Let me show you why "4x4" can save you money—help you raise more hogs at a profit.

Lee Center Is Nuptial Scene; Live in Amboy

Residing in Amboy are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Clayton who were wed in early July at the Lee Center Congregational church. Mrs. Clayton is the former Lorraine June Kennay, daughter of the John Haefner, West Brooklyn. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clayton, Amboy.

Baskets of white gladioli and fern, banked by a lighted cross and candles, were used in decorating the church altar for the evening wedding. Rev. Donald Voss officiated at the candlelight, double ring ceremony. Mrs. Chris Ulrich, Franklin Grove, was nuptial organist and Mrs. Donald Spotts, Lee Center, soloist.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white. The dress, a Martha Washington original, was designed with a lace over satin bodice that had long sleeves of Chantilly lace, pointed at the wrist, and a low scalloped neckline. The skirt of tulle panels, over satin, edged with Chantilly lace, formed a chapel length train.

The bride's waist length tiara veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her cascade bouquet of dark red roses was on a white Bible.

Bride's Attendants

Miss Betty Bresson, West Brooklyn, as maid of honor wore a dress of orchid. The frock of lace and illusion net over taffeta, was strapless and worn with a matching lace jacket. Her necklace was a gift from the bride and she carried a colonial bouquet of carnations.

Bridesmaids, Misses Patsy Williams, Amboy, and Marie Morris, West Brooklyn, cousin of the bride, wore gowns almost identical to that worn by the maid of honor. Miss Williams wore sunshine yellow and Miss Morris, Nile green. All of the bride's attendants wore headpieces of flower buds and necklaces, her gift. Misses Williams and Morris also carried colonial bouquets of carnations as did the maid of honor.

Misses Mary Jane Haefner, West Brooklyn, half sister of the bride, and Thresa Tancula, Chicago, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their gowns, identical to the other attendants, were in sunshine yellow and Nile green respectively. They also had floral headbands and carnation colonial bouquets.

Flower Girls

Kathy and Linda Liles, Amboy, nieces of the bridegroom, as flower girls, donned frocks of blue nylon and lace. They carried baskets of rose petals and wore floral headpieces.

Leo Zimmerly, Amboy, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man and Ralph Wolff, Dixon, uncle of the bride and William Stanbaugh, Rockford, cousin of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. William Kennay, West Brooklyn, brother of the bride, and Richard Clayton, cousin of the bridegroom, were junior groomsmen. Tony Clayton, Amboy, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Ushering were: Ronald Bresson and George Mace, West Brooklyn, and Roger Schnell, Franklin Grove.

The bride's mother wore a sea blue, nylon dress with white accessories. While accessories were also worn by the bridegroom's mother with her dress of sky blue, frosted nylon. They both wore pink carnation corsages.

Church Reception
A reception was held in the church basement, immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Leo Zimmerly, Amboy, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Howard Wellman, Lee Center, served the four tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Fielding Smith, Lee Center, poured coffee. Mrs. John Eisenberg, Amboy, served punch. Miss Donna Sword Ashton, cousin of the bride had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Kenneth Scaggs, West Brooklyn, Miss Beverly King, West Brooklyn, Miss Barbara Tancula, Chicago, cousin of the bride, and Miss Beverly Bresson, Ashton, were in charge of the gifts. Mrs. Scaggs also made several small floral arrangements.

Mesdames Elizabeth Bresson, West Brooklyn, Dale Clayton, Compton cousin of the bridegroom, Vernon Schnell, and Horace Hackman, West Brooklyn, William Stanbaugh, Rockford, cousin of the bridegroom, and Raymond Degner, Amboy, assisted in the kitchen.

When the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and Michigan, the bride donned a green, strapless, iridescent dress.

To Rockford

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Volz motored to Rockford Monday evening to help celebrate the 89th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Elizabeth Jurgensmier, which occurred yesterday. Mrs. Jurgensmier, mother of Mrs. Dietrich, resides in Dixon, several months of the year. She is now at the home of her son and wife, the C. L. Jurgensmiers, Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Garnhart, Stone Lake, Wis., were callers in the Jurgensmier home Sunday in celebration of the birthday anniversary. Mrs. Garnhart is another daughter of Mrs. Jurgensmier.

Use Care in Getting Suntan

If you're a sun worshiper who thinks the quickest way to get a good suntan is to get out into the sun and stay there, look out! Overexposure to the sun may be costly in two ways, says O. L. Horsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist.

First, if you get a burn so severe that your skin peels, you'll have to start all over again.

But more important is the fact that overexposure can cause serious illness and painful injury. Surprisingly enough, the patient sunbather who takes short exposures, at least until he knows how much his skin can take, usually gets the best tan.

Falling asleep under the soothing rays of the sun is the cause of many sunburns. Use a reliable alarm clock. Whenever you sunbathe have someone wake you if you fall asleep and are a sound sleeper. If you're getting a head start with a sunlamp, a timer that will shut off the lamp is very handy.

What about suntan lotions? They may give you some protection from burning but they are no substitute for moderation and good sense. Always take short exposures until you know how much your skin can safely take.

Coolest nightgown you can climb into this summer is dress-length cotton blouse with nylon trim. Needs no ironing.

Bride of Alvin Montavon Wears Tulle Over Satin

White lilies, blue delphiniums and pink roses were used in decorating St. Peter and Paul Church, Peterstown, for the morning wedding of Joanne Margaret Weber and Alvin Wendell Montavon. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Weber, Rt. 2, Mendota, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Montavon, Rt. 1, Amboy. Rev. Hettiger officiated at the June double ring ceremony.

Rosetta Barr was nuptial organist, and the senior choir of the church sang two selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of rosepoint and nylon tulle over satin. The scalloped neckline was trimmed in sequins and pearls, and the long rosepoint sleeves ended in a point over the hands. Her English, silk illusion, fingertip veil was held in place by a headpiece of finely pleated nylon tulle decorated with tiny petals and seed pearls. She carried white roses and Stephanotis on a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom. She also carried a crystal rosary, gift of the bridegroom's aunt, Sister Mary Henry Joseph.

Sister Is Attendant
As maid of honor for her sister, Ruth Ann Weber wore a gown of white length, light blue, tulle over taffeta with finely pleated full skirt and a wide pleated flounce. She donned a mandarin collared, bolero jacket of taffeta and nylon tulle. Her headpiece was of horsehair and nylon tulle bands of leaves.

Misses Elaine Weber, sister of the bride, and Sylvia Montavon, sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. Their ensembles were identical to the maid of honor. The bride's attendants wore pale pink nylon necklaces and earrings, a gift of the bride.

Rita and Raymond Weber, twin brother and sister of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Richard Montavon, his cousin. Ushers were Ralph Weber, brother of the bride, and John Allen Turnbull, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a blue nylon lace dress with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother donned a green nylon with white accessories. Their corsages were of white asters.

bride's parents, with 40 guests present. An evening reception was held in the Peters town hall for 600 guests.

When the newlyweds departed for a trip through the northern and eastern states, the bride donned a burnt orange two piece suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

The bride attended St. Peter and Paul school, Peterstown, and has been employed at the Faber Hotel Cafe, Mendota. The bridegroom attended Maytown grade school and Amboy high school. He served two years in the army and is presently engaged in farming.

Dixon Shower Honors Mrs. Ted O'Dair

Mrs. Ted O'Dair was honored recently with a pink and blue shower at Loveland Community House. Mrs. George Smith was hostess. Appropriate games were played with prizes presented to the hostess.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of yellow and white gladioli in a stock and basket vase.

Gift cards read from: Mesdames James Goes, Earl Wagner, Don Wagner, Delmar Pontiak, Renka Buskol, Oliver Brown, Glenn Messey, Charles Kine, Wilbur Bowman, and Foster Yeater, all of Polo; Mesdames Orville Deets, Russell Habeter and Kenneth Dugman, Sterling; Mesdames Harley Barnhart and Chester Spratte, Harrison, and Mesdames John Willard, John Howard, Thelma Heckman, Verner Kirby, George Vickrey, Mike Lazars, Elmo McNett and Phillip Glick, all of Dixon.

Guards Become Blood Factories In Experiments

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Nineteen city park guards have become part-time "blood factories" in an experiment scientists here hope will go a long way toward ending the world's shortage of life-saving plasma.

The guards, all hard-working and active, have been donating blood every two weeks, about five times the frequency approved for the average donor by the American Red Cross.

In the unusual part of the experiment, the blood is broken down into plasma and red corpuscles, and the red blood cells are immediately returned to the donors' system by the apparatus, known as the Cohn blood fractionator.

It is the loss of these cells through a normal donation that limits the number of times and the frequency a person can give blood. It takes about a month for the body to build up red blood cells but lost plasma can be replenished overnight.

Joseph Smolens, bacteriologist in charge of the project at the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia, said the Fairmount Park guards have shown no ill effects in the three-month-old experiment, the first of its kind.

Drives to Police Station to Report Theft, Finds Money

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (P)—Reinhardt Weseman, operator of a drive-in theater, bought some groceries at a supermarket Monday. While there he got $255 in change for use at his theater.

He locked the groceries in the trunk of his car and drove off, forgetting about the canvas bag of change he had put on the rear bumper.

Soon afterward he drove up to the police station here to report the loss of the money. He couldn't have gone to a better place.

The sack of money had dropped off the bumper right in front of the police station.

Smolens said the new process may enable persons to give up a pint of blood a week or about 50 pints a year. That would be 10 times the amount now permitted. In case of a national emergency the plasma thus obtained could mean the saving of thousands of lives.

Will Charge Two With Kidnaping

TIPTON, Iowa (P)—An Iowa sheriff says that two men who were captured after an Illinois couple subdued them Saturday face possible federal kidnap charges.

Sheriff C. R. Willey says that Louis F. Mangione, 23, son of Fred Mangione, Chicago, reported that he had been kidnaped by two men who forced him to drive from Chicago to Clarence, Iowa, and then left on foot when Mangione's car ran out of gas.

Mangione's description of the two, according to Sheriff Willey, fitted that of Edward Lee Campbell, 24, Natural Bridge, Va., and Ogden Danner, 29, of Chicago, who now are charged under Iowa's kidnap statute.

Campbell and Danner were captured by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tomaszewski, of Princeton, Ill., after the two men forced their way into the couple's car near Clarence, Iowa, early Saturday. Tomaszewski wounded Danner as the two men grappled for Danner's pistol. Danner is under police guard at a Marshalltown hospital. Campbell is confined in the Tipton jail.

Boyle's Reflections on The Gentler (Ha!) Sex

By HAL BOYLE
(Who has just left town)

NEW YORK (P)—Curbstone reflections on women by a pavement Plato:

The biggest mistake a woman can make is to try always to be utterly charming or perfectly beautiful. Men may claim they admire perfection, but if they do it is only in heaven. . . . on earth it frightens them.

A wise woman will follow the example of the old Chinese rug-makers who traditionally wove a slight imperfection into their colorful carpet patterns to show they realized perfection is for gods, not mankind. . . . A woman who is always coldly and divinely beautiful pay a penalty. . . . Men yield her the same esteem they do a classic statue, but they don't marry statues. . . . They marry girls with freckles and warts.

Editor's note: You've heard of leg men? Boyle's the 20th century's leading wart admirer.

Most men today really realize women are stronger than they are, yet in their hearts they pity women. . . . They don't feel women actually get as much real fun out of living as they do. . . . Motherhood isn't the worst ordeal of womanhood. . . . To a man the thing he der depends on sex appeal to help her get ahead probably doesn't have enough to depend on anyway.

Women are just physically attractive when they are most dressed up. Office girls are most feminine when they come to work in a long tight skirt and a loose white blouse. As every boss knows. . . . But a tousled touch helps romance. . . . That's why more men propose marriage on picnics than in crowded ballrooms.

He's A Liar!

Any man who won't admit he is secretly more attracted by a beautiful redhead than by a blonde or brunette is either a liar—or else married to a redhead. . . . Any career woman who brags she nev-

He's A Liar!

Any man who won't admit he is secretly more attracted by a beautiful redhead than by a blonde or brunette is either a liar—or else married to a redhead. . . . Any career woman who brags she nev-

ed on by foreign visitors, and it is indeed an American tragedy. . . . For it reflects not poise, as these women fondly believe, but inward uncertainty. . . . Few things really please a man more than seeing a woman every now and then break out with an honest belly laugh. . . . He loves her on sight. . . . But he won't love her very long if she laughs that way every other moment. . . . It's her change of pace that gets him.

Annoying Women

The woman who annoys men most is one who never will do her fair share of pushing in a revolving door. . . . But the most frustrating thing to a man is to count

It isn't true that men are afraid to marry intelligent women. . . . They merely dislike intelligent women who are unintelligent enough to say sarcastic things about a man's faults. . . . Men secretly despise sarcasm in a woman more than they do untidiness in her.

No man is truly afraid of any woman unless she kills a trapped woman in his presence. For some reason this so frightens him that, unless he has long been married to her, he will pack his bag and run away from home at once and never, never come back.

Scofield Resigns as Cage Coach

Won't Teach But Plans to Stay in Dixon

Action Catches School Officials By Surprise

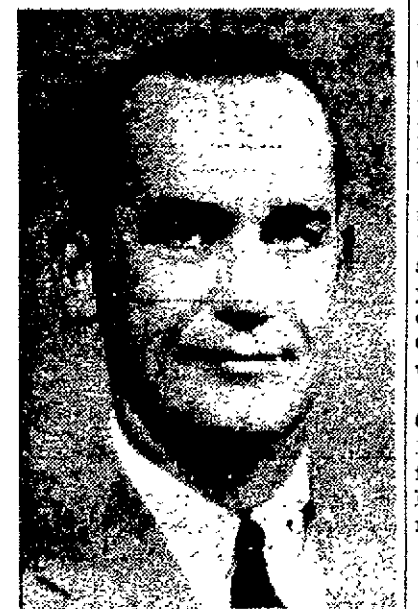

Lon Scofield, for the past seven years head basketball coach at Dixon high school, last night tendered his resignation to the Dixon school board, it was announced today.

The action came as a surprise to school officials since the Dixon mentor had already signed his contract for the 1955-56 school year.

No action has been taken on appointing a successor.

Scofield, in reporting his resignation to The Telegraph, said this morning that he was giving up the teaching field and was neither leaving for another school position nor seeking another teaching job.

The veteran Dixon coach added that he has no definite plans for the future other than that he will remain here in Dixon. Scofield said he hopes to find employment in Dixon and will scout around to consider several job opportunities.

Started Driver Program

Scofield came to Dixon in 1948 after having coached previously at Weldon and Fisher high schools. At Weldon, where he began his coaching career in 1938, he coached baseball, basketball and track. In 1942, he entered the navy and upon his discharge in 1946, he took over as coach of four sports at Fisher where he remained until coming to Dixon in 1948.

While a member of the Dixon high school faculty, Scofield taught general science and started the driver training program in 1948. He also taught physical education for awhile.

In addition to his basketball duties, he was assistant football coach for seven years and handled the distance men in track for three years.

The decision to resign did not come under pressure, Scofield said. "It was a hard decision to make but with three children, it was necessary," Scofield indicated that a school teacher's salary isn't enough if he hopes to send his youngsters to college.

Won 39 Per Cent

Though his basketball teams at Dixon never won a championship or a tournament, they finished second several times and only once in seven years did his team finish in the second division of the North Central conference.

Scofield's teams won approximately 50 per cent of their games at Dixon and his lifetime record of coaching basketball teams is in the high 60 per cent bracket, Scofield estimated.

While at Fisher, one of his basketball teams racked up 33 wins against two losses for his best single season record.

In stating that he plans to continue making his home in Dixon, Scofield said, "Dixon has been very good to me and we the and his family have made many friends here."

Commenting upon the resignation, Sheldon Brown, high school principal, said that Scofield "will be a hard man to replace. He was a good teacher and driver training instructor as well as being a fine coach." Brown added that the announcement came as quite a surprise.

Al Kaline Could Win Triple Crown

NEW YORK P.—Al Kaline was only a youngster in grade school when Ted Williams won the American League's triple crown in 1947.

Today, the 20-year-old Detroit outfielder is in a good position to become the first major leaguer since then to finish on top in batting, home runs and runs batted in during the same season.

Kaline heads the junior circuit in batting with a .365 average in home runs with 22 and he is second to Boston's Jackie Jensen in runs batted in — 75 to 76.

1954 Runner-Up Still Woman to Beat in Tourney

CHICAGO—(AP)—The form sheet was slightly tattered, but school teacher Beverly Gammon of St. Paul, the 1954 runner-up, still loomed as the gal to beat as the 55th Women's Western Amateur golf tourney entered its match-play phase today.

Monday's qualifying round which whittled an original 114 player field to 32, knocked out two seasoned contenders and nearly disposed of the meet's only former champion, Marjorie Lindsay McMillen of Decatur, Ill.

Jane Nelson of Indianapolis, runner-up in the 1953 Western Amateur, flunked with an 87, a dozen strokes behind the co-medallists 18-year-old Wiffi Smith, former Mexico Open champion, and seasoned Carol Dinger, 29, of Tiffin, Ohio, who fired par-matching 75s.

Jean Hopkins of Rocky River, Ohio, a Western semi-finalist in 1946 and 1947, was eliminated in a five-way playoff at 85 which Mrs. McMillen the 1951 champion, managed to survive.

16 Matches

Miss Gammon, attractive 23-year old Minnesota state champion, qualified with a 77 and collides with another tall beauty, Mrs. Dwight Anneaux of Chicago, in one of today's 16 first-round matches at well-trapped Olympia Fields country club. Mrs. Anneaux, a perennial contender, qualified with 82.

Only one other girl separated Miss Gammon, an English teacher at Mound, Minn., from the contenders. That was Chicago's fine young player, Virginia Denney, who shot a 74.

10th Appearance

Miss Gammon lost in last year's storm-played Western finals to Claire Dornan of Lakewood, Ohio, who skipped a title defense to complete marriage plans.

Miss Dinger, who is making her 10th Western Amateur appearance and still seeks a title, opens against Anne Richardson, Rollins College star from Columbus, Ohio, in an 81 qualifier Monday.

Miss Smith, of St. Clair, Mich., who looks like a young Patty Berg, takes on an Evanston, Ill., high school lass, Meriam Bailey. Miss Bailey also qualified at 81.

Other first round matches include Miss Denney (78) vs. Holly Roth (82) Milwaukee; Berridge Long (79), Huntington, W. Va., vs. Vonnie Pico (84), Galesburg, Ill.; Mrs. Dorothy Balch (80), Indianapolis vs. Nan Berry (85), Quincy, Ill.; and Mrs. McMillen vs. Ruth Jensen, (81), Kenmore, Wash.

Poirier Wins

NEW YORK P.—Gene Poirier came back the hard way Monday night, five weeks after a knockout defeat, to win a blazing battle from Danny Jo Perez.

The scrappy welter from Niagara Falls, N. Y., raked Perez with his left hooks and shook him with his right but never could bring him down in their 10-round scrap at St. Nicholas Arena. All three officials scored it 6-4. The AP had it 7-5 Poirier, who was penalized the sixth round for a low blow.

Scortichini Tells of Getting Beamed by Bottle in Manila

NEW YORK P.—Pop bottles are for drinking, not throwing. That's the message Bepi Scortichini, the Italian middleweight, brings back from Manila.

The scout 5-7 gentleman still wears a patch on his noggin as a souvenir of his trip to the Philippines. Italo also brought back the Philippine middleweight title, but they can have it.

"I don't think I like to go back," he said Monday night. "The people they are nice, but at the boxing ring they give you no protection. When they come at you with bottles and knives, you can get yourself killed quick."

Scortichini fought in Australia in April, going 10 rounds to a draw with George Barnes. Then he decided to try Manila. When he knocked out Young Paulino in four rounds, he won the Philippine championship because both men were under 160 pounds.

Last week Italo defended his newly-won title against Marshall Clayton and won on an eighth round.

YOUNGEST VETERAN HONORED—Joe DiMaggio, the youngest ball player to be honored in the Hall of Fame looks over the plaque unveiled in his honor after ceremonies at Cooperstown, N. Y. (July 25). Joe was installed in the Hall along with five others. (AP Wirephoto).

Ford, Middlecoff Needle Each Other on Playoff Eve

DETROIT—(AP)—Doug Ford and Cary Middlecoff, who square off today for the 37th PGA championship, simply don't like each other's style of play.

Even as they walked triumphantly from the 53rd green of their semi-finals victories — hours apart — they were hurling needling fibes at each other's game. They let it be known, then and there, that their 36-hole tie match would be as much a battle of nerves as of shots.

"That guy plays so slow that maybe I'd better bring my trailer along and sleep between shots," said Ford. "I might even lap him."

Middlecoff had an entirely different slant on Ford's "shot-and-run" style.

"I'll take as long as I want — and he'll have to just like it," Middlecoff said.

It took Ford 5 hours and 10 minutes to dispose of Shelley Mayfield, of Westbury, N. Y., 4 and 3, at the Meadowbrook Country Club. Middlecoff, playing the same distance, took 6 hours and 35 minutes before he finished off Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., also 4 and 3.

Middlecoff seems to have the edge for the championship wind-up. This is one of his favorite courses, having won three tournaments here.

Ford hasn't won a tournament since last year; Middlecoff has captured five this season alone.

Notre Dame to Televis Over Closed Circuit

SOUTH BEND Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame will telecast at least three of its football games this fall on a closed circuit that will reach 13 cities.

The Rev. Edmund J. Conroy, executive vice president of the university, said Monday other cities may be added later.

Cities included on the network will be New York, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Washington, Rochester, N. Y., St. Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and Providence, R. I.

Games to be telecast will be against Miami Oct. 7, Navy Oct. 20, Iowa Nov. 19 and possibly the Southern California game Nov. 26.

The closed circuit system of the Sheraton hotels will be used and the games will be shown in hotel ballrooms.

Klu Near Record As Fielder, Too

NEW YORK P.—Ted Klus, 34, better known for his shagging is approaching a major league hitting record for first basemen. The Cincinnati man's defensive leader at his position the last four years, again is setting the pace this season with a .998 average.

Nats' Lead Cut to One Over H. L.

Rotary Jumps to Early Lead Over League Leaders

Rotary and Home Lumber cut some of the ground out from under league-leading Nationals in Jaycee-Park Board Major league action Monday night as the Rotarians handed the Nats a 10-6 setback and the Lumbermen rapped Rock River Ready Mix, 13-5.

Monday's action leaves the Nats in first place with an 8-4 record but their lead was cut to one game over Home Lumber which has a 7-5 mark. Third place Rotary, with a 5-6 record is 2½ games off the pace.

Rotary got off to a fast start against the Nats, building up a 6-2 lead in two innings and increasing it to 10-4 after five innings. The Nats rallied for two runs in the last of the sixth, but Rotary's Larry Origien pitched himself out of trouble.

8-1 Lead

Origien fanned nine in the six inning game while walking just four and giving up six hits. Smokey Rink started for the Nats and struck out two while walking five. He was relieved by Maurice Fiegeley who walked one and struck out six. Between them, they gave up eight hits but were hurt by seven errors by their mates.

Home Lumber jumped off to a 9-1 first inning lead and was never headed after that as Stan Dunphy held the Mixers to six hits and seven walks. Dunphy fanned nine. Stacey and Detweiler shared the pitching chores for Rock River, giving up 16 hits. Stacey walked one and struck out seven while Detweiler walked one and struck out two.

NEW YORK P.—The Brooklyn Dodgers may be beset by injuries, but they're still the best base stealing club in the major leagues.

Associated Press statistics showed today that the Dodgers, who lead the majors in homers with 124, also pace both circuits in stolen bases with 49, three more than they compiled all last season.

The Chicago White Sox are leading the American League with 42 steals, but the "go-go" boys had 61 in as many games a year ago. The New York Yankees are in second place with 35.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who led the National League last season with 63 steals, are the runnersup to Brooklyn with 45.

Pittsburgh has stolen only 13 bases the lowest total in the National League, while Cleveland, in the American, only has had 14.

Chips Down In American Flag Chase

Sox at Yankees; Tribe vs. Bosox In Crucial Games

By The Associated Press

The run for the American League pennant starts tonight as the Western teams invade the East.

The Chicago White Sox, still trying to get the hang of staying in the lead, barge into Yankee Stadium to harass first-place New York. And Cleveland, just two percentage points behind second-place Chicago, tries to keep the lid on the Red Sox at Boston.

These four are the teams to watch—although it might be smart to keep an eye on Detroit too.

New York limped back from a terrible tour of the West with only a one-game lead. The White Sox, in first from Friday night until Sunday afternoon, and Cleveland both are a length behind. Boston trails by four games. Detroit is 7½ back.

Donovan vs. Byrne

Dick Donovan (13-3) probably will pitch for the White Sox tonight and Tommy Byrne (8-2) for New York.

Herb Schoen (10-8) is the Cleveland choice against Boston's Frank Sullivan (12-8).

Detroit is at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington in a pair of two-night double-headers. In the National, it's Brooklyn by 1½; as the Dodgers, still physically ailing, head west. Manager Walt Alston has been able to field his regular starters only twice in the last 34 games, yet the Brooks have gained ground. They don't figure to lose it on this trip.

Besides the Dodgers, the Western teams also have to contend with Philadelphia. The Phils, 1½ games behind third-place New York and three shy of second-place Milwaukee, have won 14 of their last 15.

They start the trip in Milwaukee. Brooklyn is at Cincinnati, the New York Giants at Chicago and Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

LON SCOFIELD, AN OFF-SEASON HANDYMAN was contemplating climbing a ladder to paint the windows of a house at 216 McKenney street when we drove up to talk over his resignation.

We relaxed on the lawn while he sipped coffee and started talking.

"It was a hard decision to make, he started. 'I've been in basketball for 35 years as player and coach and a man can't just give it up easily.'

"I'VE MADE A GREAT MANY FRIENDS in the game and most of all, I've enjoyed working with the boys. That's going to be the hardest part. Seeing those boys drive by and know that I won't be with them any more."

The decision to resign was obviously a hard one to make, but looking at the man, one could feel that there was a touch of relief both in his face and his voice.

HERE IS A MAN WHO HAS BEEN the target of a great deal of criticism in past years when Dixon teams never quite got over the hump and into first place in the conference or a tournament.

Yet, Scofield said, "I never minded the critics. At least, I knew they were interested when they were critical. And I feel I have many friends, even among my critics," he went on.

WE'VE KNOWN "SCOF" FOR THREE YEARS and have always considered him a fine man, a good coach and a good man with boys. We have known him in times of despair when victory was almost within his grasp only to fall from reach.

We remember two years ago when Dixon had beaten Sterling three straight times and then lost a heartbreaking decision to the Warriors in an overtime of the regional tournament.

IN EFFECT, THE PLAYERS BLEW IT after roaring from behind to take what appeared to be a substantial lead with only seconds to play. But when the game was over, a disappointed Scofield defended the boys. And we wondered at that time, how many coaches would have been that magnanimous.

Today, Scofield has no regrets about coaching. "I feel that I did a good job here," he said. "I've worked with an awful lot of fine boys and I have nothing but pleasant memories of my coaching career."

HE RECALLED ONE SEASON when his ball club was poor. It had lost several games in a row and Rochelle was coming into town with a potential championship team. But when the smoke had cleared, Dixon had turned in a surprising upset.

We recalled two years ago when a potentially fine ball team had hit the skids after losing a one-sided game to Princeton. The club was handicapped with the loss of Don Nafziger, out with the flu. At Mendota, in the final game of the season, the outlook was dim. But Scofield, one of the finest tacticians in the game, geared his club for a surprising victory over the Trojans.

Turncoats Will Be Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Immediate arrest aboard ship at San Francisco and court-martial later await three young American turncoats coming home from Red China.

Pentagon officials said Monday Army officers will board their ship, a passenger liner, when it docks at San Francisco next Friday and make the arrests there.

The three are William C. Cowart, 22, Dalton, Ga.; Lewis W. Griggs, 22, Jacksonville, Tex., and Otto G. Bell, 24, Hillsboro, Miss., and Olympia, Wash.

Captured during the Korean War, they refused repatriation in 1953 and decided instead to go to Red China with 18 other Allied soldiers.

After a year and a half there, the returning trio persuaded the Chinese to let them come home.

At Hong Kong earlier this month, all three said they were willing to serve time in American prisons if necessary, to pay for their "mistakes."

The Pentagon said they will be held on various charges, including aiding the enemy and misconduct as prisoners. The Army will emphasize that the arrests have nothing to do with the fact that the three originally refused to come home.

The Army bases its case on information from other former American prisoners.

The men will be told they may see any members of their families who are in San Francisco to meet them. But they cannot go home with their families.

Russian Farmers Get Little Preparation for U. S. Trip

By TOM WHITNEY

HUMBOLDT, Iowa (AP)—Two Soviet Russians, Yuri Golubash and Peter Babmindra, walked around in a 5 and 10 store here Monday evening.

In Russia they don't have such stores. Golubash and Babmindra, along with eight other members of the Soviet farm delegation, stopped Monday night at the Kiozy Korner Motel.

In Russia they don't have motels. Seven of the Russian farm leaders Monday noon had lunch at the Eagle Grove Country Club.

In Russia they don't have country clubs.

Try Golf

At the urging of photographers, two of the Russians tried their hand at a little golf.

In Russia they don't have golf. All these things and many others set me thinking Monday night about how many new and different things the members of the Soviet farm group are seeing day after day, things which most of them never even knew existed.

Two Die in Chair for Child Murders

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Two men convicted of slaying children died five minutes apart Monday night in the electric chair at Rockview State Penitentiary.

First to die was Patrick Lance, 30-year-old steelworker from Big Bend Twp. Charged with slaying his wife, a 9-year-old stepson and an 11-year-old step-daughter, he was tried only for the boy's shooting.

Elijah Thompson, Jr., 22, an unemployed laborer, was executed for the fatal beating and stabbing of his neighbor, Helen Jean Bryant, 16, last October. Her body was found in a shallow grave near her Aliquippa home five days after she disappeared.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly. So they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Congress Heads For the Windup End May Come Saturday If Measures Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances for adjournment this week of the 1955 session of Congress teetered in the balance today as both House and Senate struggled with the usual last-minute rush of bills.

Senate leaders took the position there still is a good chance to wind up by this Saturday night.

House leaders appeared somewhat less optimistic.

House leaders called up today one of the big controversial measures of the session—a road construction bill to provide for 48½ billion dollars of federal and state spending over the next 13 years.

The Senate has passed it in different form.

The Senate works on a $1,826, 111,614 supplemental money bill—the cleanup appropriations measure for this year with items in it for dozens of government agencies. This has cleared the House in different form.

The Senate also is likely to send to President Eisenhower a compromise military reserve bill designed to provide an eventual force of 2,900,000 trained men. The House passed it Monday.

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee, which serves as a traffic control for legislation, Monday held up a stop sign for all but four classes of legislation:

Appropriations bill to run the government; minor bills for which there is "not too pronounced" opposition; "emergency" measures; and conference reports on bill in disagreement between the two houses.

It appeared certain two major pieces of legislation would win final passage—a bill to raise the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour and a bill to extend major government housing programs.

Three appropriations bills remain to clear Congress, including the big foreign aid bill.

You get a Record-Breaking Deal on the car that's breaking all records!

Now-Biggest trade-in deals ever on the biggest-selling Buicks in History!

THAT says it right to the point. We're trading big because our sales volume is big—biggest of all time.

Buick sales are soaring beyond every high point in history. And Buick is outselling every other car in the country—regardless of price class—except the two most widely known smaller cars.

So, with this tremendous volume to back us up, we're sharing profits with you—in the form of the highest allowance ever. Come in and see what a whale of a deal you can make on a new Buick now.

*3 Bonus Reasons why
Buick's breaking Records—*

1. It's The Thrill Of The Year—

with record-high V8 power in every model—and with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo™—world's first and only transmission with the switch-pitch action of the modern plane's propeller.

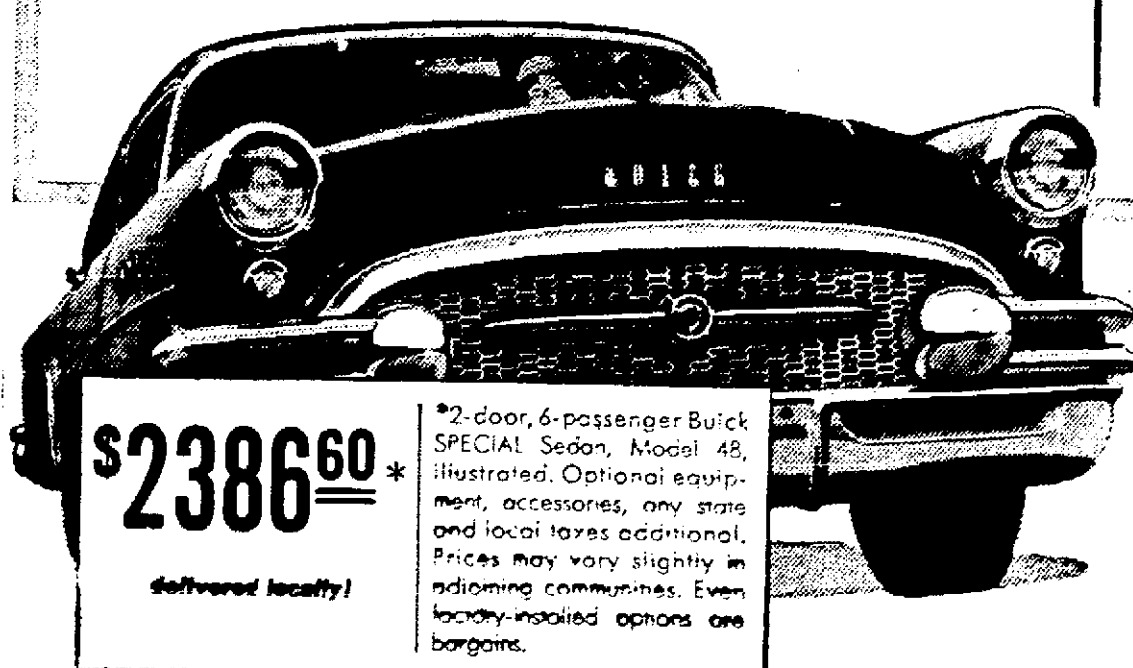

2. It's The Big Buy With The Extra-Long Trade-In Allowance.

Buick prices start with those of the smaller cars. But those Buick dollars buy you a lot more automobile—more room, comfort, ride steadiness, power thrill, solid durability. And our low Buick prices drop even lower with the extra-big trade-in allowances our huge volume permits us to make.

3. It's The Car Of Extra-High Resale Value.

Buick's bold, fresh styling will look as modern tomorrow as it does today. That's been true over the years—is even truer right now. So when you add the sports-car styling of today's Buick to Buick's precision engineering and solidity of structure—you can be sure the Buick you buy today will command a higher resale price when you trade it in.

Variable Pitch Dynaflo™ is the only Dynaflo™ Buick built today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other series.

U.S. Willing to Deal With Reds That's Lesson Learned From Geneva Meetings

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the lessons from the Geneva conference is that the United States, for the sake of peace, is willing to make concessions to the Communists provided they do the same.

Just how far the Eisenhower administration will go in the direction should be disclosed eventually. At the moment it probably doesn't know itself.

For years in the cold war this country followed a pretty rigid policy—almost a frozen policy, it seemed at times—of yielding nothing to the Communists. They were equally frozen.

Startles World
Last week at Geneva President Eisenhower startled the world, including the United States and Russia, with his proposal that this country and the Soviets exchange complete blueprints on their military forces.

The Russians haven't accepted and probably won't. And in a showdown Eisenhower might not have been able to carry through on his offer since there might have been enough opposition in Congress to block his plan.

Nevertheless, the offer was made. It has been called many things by many people, ranging from bold and daring and imaginative to propaganda.

But it has not been called appeasement by anyone in Congress, yet. This in itself was almost startling. On the whole the reaction in this country was favorable.

This could be taken as an indication the very magnitude of the offer instantly conditioned Americans to the idea of concessions or that they were already willing to make them for the sake of peace if the Russians would reciprocate.

Knowland A Thorn
Perhaps the greatest thorn to Eisenhower in handling American foreign policy has been Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, who has been in conflict with the President in that field for years.

Knowland had a habit of issuing statements that were little comfort to the administration many times when Secretary of State Dulles was doing most of the talking in foreign policy matters.

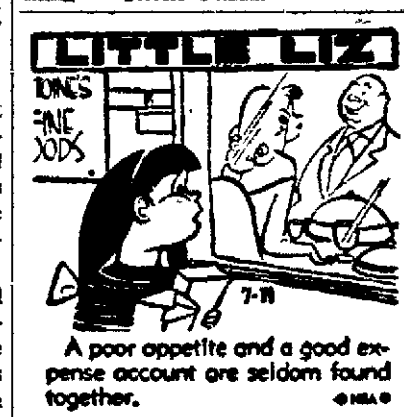

But in recent months Eisenhower has taken a firmer and more personal hand in steering the foreign policy wheel himself. The more Eisenhower asserted himself, the more Knowland seemed to become subdued.

Although Democratic leaders heartily applauded Eisenhower's offer to exchange military information with the Russians, Knowland refused comment and said he would have no statement until the Geneva conference ended.

He hasn't issued one yet.

Scientist Saves Housewife From 'Going Batty'

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Royal Atkinson has furthered the cause of science and saved herself from going "batty."

Bats flitted in and out of her living room for more than a week. Then she read of a woman scientist at the University of Cincinnati who was just crazy about bats.

Why, Dr. Elizabeth Smith even kept the creatures in a refrigerator—for scientific purposes.

So Monday, on request, Dr. Smith arrived at the Atkinson home and caught the bats: 22 of them, including 11 babies.

Singer Dick Haymes Can Stay in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes, born in Argentina, may stay in the United States.

The Justice Department announced Monday that it was dropping its efforts to deport him.

Haymes entered the United States for permanent residence in 1937. The government contended that he became ineligible for citizenship during World War II when he claimed a neutral status and did not serve in the U.S. armed forces. Haymes said he later was classified for military service but was rejected for a heart condition.

The government said Haymes made himself liable to deportation when he went to Hawaii in 1953 and then re-entered the United States "from a foreign port or place or from an outlying possession." Haymes went to Hawaii to sing and also be with actress Rita Hayworth, whom he later married.

On May 31 a U.S. district judge here ruled that Hawaii is a geographical part of the United States and thus Haymes did not leave the country when he went there.

The Justice Department said it would not appeal the ruling.

Ike's Dolls 'Shocks' U. S. Doll Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Those dolls that President Eisenhower bought in Geneva for his grandchildren have brought an "official protest" from the National Assn. of Doll Manufacturers.

The entire American doll industry is "shocked" by such "spotlighting of foreign dolls," said Association President David Rosenstein in a wire to the White House Monday.

Rosenstein said he is sending the President some 100 per cent American dolls "as gifts and constant reminders."

Among the American dolls is one that drinks, wets, cries and blows her nose. Others are a walking doll with "mink coat rooted hair impossible to pull off the head," a talking doll that recites "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," and a remote-controlled boy doll that walks, talks and has eyes that light up.

Galveston's Bawdy Houses Close Doors

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Bawdy houses padlocked their doors Monday night in this island resort city which traditionally gives the visitor what he wants in the way of gambling, liquor and women.

Protests by the Galveston Ministerial Assn. and the American Social Hygiene Assn. brought the latest crackdown. Police Chief W. J. Burns announced Monday any house which didn't lock its own doors would be raided. At 10:30 p.m. Monday night, said Burns, all had padlocked their doors.

Burns said they will "stay closed."

Mayor George Roy Clough, who advocates an "open but clean" city, applauded the latest crackdown but said:

"I will say this. It's going to be a hell of a job keeping them closed."

The mayor believes a seaport town, and especially an island city of some 75,000 people such as this one along the Texas Gulf Coast can't get rid of its prostitutes for good.

"I think Galveston should have its prostitutes in a red light district where they are known for what they are and we can exercise some degree of regulation over them."

Honest Cop Tags Own Car

LONG BEACH, N. Y. (AP)—The car was parked in a no-parking zone and Patrolman William Miller clearly saw his duty. He wrote out a $2 ticket.

It wasn't quite so clear who would pay the fine. The car happened to be the Miller family car left there by the patrolman's wife Monday while she and the children went to the beach.

"She's going to fine herself," Miller commented.

"I'll pay it all right," his wife said later, "but I'll use his money."

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Jim Herriott, co-owner of a bulk oil plant here, felt sorry today that burglars were unable to open the company's 500-pound safe.

He said the safe was jammed in being moved two years ago and he hasn't been able to open it since.

"We don't think anything is in it," he said. "I almost wish they had opened it so we could see."

Prosperity May Bring Inflation

England Experiencing Higher Living Costs

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Prosperity—that pleasant companion—is being cited today as the villain that is inducing a new brush with inflation in England and could just possibly be pushing the United States into a return bout.

Good times are favoring both nations.

Employment is high, wages rising smartly, incomes up, and stores full of tempting items. So people put out cash freely for gadgets, homes or services, and increasingly buy more on time. The very easy payments take much of the frightening look out of the price tags.

In the United States, so far, inflation is just something that the cautious fear might recur if prosperity induces speculative excess. In England it's already back, it's foot in the door in spite of government efforts to forestall it.

Living Costs Jump

The cost of living has just taken a jump there. Retail prices are at a record high. And the price of coal—a prime budget item for most British householders—has just been hiked 18 per cent. This week the price of steel goes up an average of 5 per cent.

Since coal powers much of British industry, and steel is basic to manufacturing, there is fear that higher prices will soon spread to coke and the many products made of steel, and rates for electricity, gas and freight will climb higher.

Coal production has declined in England. But eager to hold its traditional markets, Britain exports 11 to 12 million tons a year. To make up the deficit and meet the demand of its own booming industries, it has imported about 12 million tons. It prefers to buy our coal, for example, than to risk Americans capturing its old markets.

Try Checks

To combat this new inflationary pressure, the British government is trying to check spending by hiking interest rates, squeezing credit, and imposing stiffer curbs on installment buying.

In the United States price hikes have so far been confined mostly to the primary industrial materials. Steel, copper, lead, zinc, aluminum and silver have gone up. Further price hikes are expected by some.

Wages have climbed this year much faster and further than last. The real threat of future inflation here seems to lie in the chance that so much prosperity may foster speculation—may induce consumers to ignore rising prices and stock up on goods bought on time—may cause businessmen to build up excess inventories, to expand their plants too optimistically—may lead to excess use of credit.

Barring a spree of over-buying and over-borrowing, however, prosperity could be our pleasant companion for quite a spell yet.

The Sahara, in northern Africa, is the largest continuous desert in the world.
